

STAFF SGT. BLAYNE DENKE

Integrated Avionics Specialist

Staff Sgt. Blayne Denke is an Integrated Avionics craftsman for the F-16 Viper Demonstration Team.

As an avionics specialist, he is responsible for ensuring the aircraft's communication, navigation, RADAR, and electronic warfare systems are operational.

He represents Air Combat Command, the United States Air Force and the Department of Defense at more than 20 airshows annually.

His mission is to ensure the demonstration pilot has a safe aircraft to perform an aerial demonstration for millions of spectators.

Staff Sgt. Denke enlisted into the Air Force in September 2021. He is from Medford, Oregon and enjoys gaming, hiking and music.
