

Captain Aimee Fiedler

Demonstration Commander/Pilot

Captain Aimee Fiedler is the United States Air Force F-16 Viper Demonstration Team commander and pilot stationed at Shaw Air force Base in Sumter, S.C. As the Viper Demo Team commander, she is responsible for representing Air Combat Command, the United States Air Force, the Department of Defense and the United States of America at more than 20 air shows annually.

She leads the 8-member Viper Demonstration Team and showcases the Viper's exceptional maneuverability for millions of spectators each year. Capt. Fiedler is thrilled to be the leader of the F-16 Viper Demonstration Team and to inspire the next generation of pilots and maintainers.

Capt. Fiedler is from New Braunfels, Texas. After graduating from Seguin High School, she attended South Dakota State University, graduating in 2013 with a Bachelor of Science in Aviation Education.

Capt. Fiedler flight instructed as a civilian at SDSU from 2011-2014 and then moved to Annapolis, Maryland and flight instructed at the Navy Annapolis Flight Center from May 2014 to September 2015. During her time in Maryland she flew 1,300 hours with over 900 instructor hours. She then attended Officer Training School in July 2016 and graduated in September 2016.

Capt Fiedler then attended Undergraduate Pilot Training and Introduction to Fighter Fundamentals, graduating in 2018. She then attended F-16 Viper B-course at Holloman AFB, New Mexico.

Following graduation from B-course, Capt. Fiedler was stationed at Kunsan Air Base, Korea where she served from 2019-2020. Capt. Fiedler moved to Shaw AFB in November 2020. She was assigned to the 55th Fighter Squadron as an operational F-16 Flight Lead.

While assigned to the 20th Fighter Wing, she was selected to be the United States Air Force F-16 Viper Demonstration Team pilot.